EDUCATION

1.0 RATIONALE

Futures Matter - Northwood delivers education according to the individual needs of pupils, in a safe, positive and predictable environment. Pupils have a range of complex needs and diagnoses, including communication difficulties, autism, and social, emotional and mental health needs, which might lead to challenging behaviour.

This policy provides clear guidance on our expectations and the methods we use to promote positive behaviour throughout our school. This policy outlines the behaviour we expect from all pupils, staff and visitors to our school. It extends to all members of our school community. The policy is written in line with current legislation, guidance and best practice, including Keeping Children Safe in Education (KCSIE) 2026.

This policy aims to:

- create a positive culture that promotes excellent behaviour, so that all pupils can learn in a calm, safe and supportive environment
- set out the expectations and consequences of behaviour, and apply them consistently and fairly to every pupil, taking account of their needs
- define what we consider to be unacceptable behaviour, including bullying and discrimination
- explain how we promote good behaviour, respond to misbehaviour and support pupils to change
- meet our duties as an independent school to have, publish and effectively implement a behaviour policy and an anti-bullying strategy

Behaviour management approach. We believe that the approach and strategies a school uses to manage behaviour are intrinsically linked to the ethos and prevailing culture of that school. For us, it is critical that our practice is inclusive and child-centred, where it relates to dealing with behaviour.

Verbal and safety approaches. Our staff team is trained to promote positive behaviour, de-escalate negative behaviours and to use physical intervention techniques as a very last resort. We selected JM Training for our staff team because we believe that their verbal and safety approaches are ethically compatible with the context of our school and support us to address inappropriate pupil behaviour. We are committed to promoting inclusion, choice, participation and equality of opportunity for all pupils. See Appendix 1: Global Conflict Management De-escalation and Physical Intervention (GCM).

The functions of behaviour. We believe that all behaviour relates to having, or not having, certain needs met. All behaviour is functional and serves an identifiable purpose, that is, there is a reason behind all behaviours.

Some of our pupils display challenging behaviour as a response to a complex range of needs, including those associated with their communication, learning difficulties or disabilities. These problems may be compounded by additional difficulties associated with developmental trauma, mental health issues, social deprivation and complex medical conditions requiring strategies which are informed by an extensive understanding of challenging behaviour.

Adverse Childhood Experiences (ACEs) and attachment: We recognise that many of our pupils will have experienced one or more Adverse Childhood Experiences, such as abuse, neglect, domestic violence, parental mental illness, substance misuse, or family breakdown, and that these experiences can affect a child's stress response, capacity to self-regulate, and ability to form trusting relationships.

Our approach is informed by attachment theory. We understand that behaviour which challenges may be an unconscious attempt to test or maintain a relationship, to seek safety, or to communicate distress that a pupil cannot yet put into words. Staff are trained to respond to the need behind the behaviour, not just the behaviour itself, and to prioritise felt safety, predictability and consistent, trusted relationships with key adults. Our trauma-informed, relational approach is informed by Thrive principles.

Our philosophy. We build a school community where every member feels valued and respected because they are treated fairly and well. Our school is a caring community, where values are built on mutual trust and respect for all. Our four values, Ambitious, Respectful, Resilient and Kind, guide how we expect everyone to behave. Our school's Behaviour, Rewards and Sanctions Policy supports us in promoting:

- the overall quality of life of pupils and staff, and
- an environment in which everyone feels happy, safe and secure.

Positive behaviour and self-discipline have strong links to effective learning and are vital for pupils during and beyond their school years. All pupils should be aware of the standards of behaviour that are expected of them in our community. Pupils should be supported to take responsibility for both adhering to and promoting these standards.

Our aims. Through experience, we know that by encouraging positive behaviour patterns we can promote good relationships throughout the school, built on trust and understanding. This policy will help us to support all pupils to develop a high level of social awareness and tolerance. Our aim is to ensure that all our pupils leave the school with the key skills and attributes they need to continue to progress to the best of their ability in all areas of life.

Futures Matter - Northwood is dedicated to ensuring that our school environment supports learning and the well-being of pupils and staff through a strong sense of community. Co-operation, support, and respect are the foundations of our ethos, and we work hard to provide a school where pupils feel included in every aspect of school life, and comfortable to voice their opinions.

Our school is committed to supporting all pupils to:

- achieve their full potential
- acquire knowledge and skills relevant to life in a demanding, fast changing world
- develop as confident learners
- take calculated risks within a safe environment
- be curious, ambitious and take pride in their achievements
- achieve high standards in all they do
- develop as self-motivated, independent and collaborative learners
- value and care for themselves and others in our community
- understand their rights and responsibilities as citizens
- enjoy what they do and have fun

To achieve these aims, our school will provide:

- a happy, healthy, safe, and secure environment
- high standards of teaching with individualised support as needed
- a relevant and interesting curriculum, delivered in line with the needs and interests of pupils, providing first-hand, relevant and practical experiences
- a stimulating, evolving and inspirational environment
- a professional, suitably skilled and supportive staff team
- effective school leaders and governance ensuring our school continuously develops
- opportunities for parents and carers to play an active, supportive role in their child's education
- opportunities outside the classroom, and the chance to extend our close links with the local community

Please refer to our Curriculum Policy and SEND Policy for further information.

How do we achieve our aims? We will determine the boundaries of acceptable and unacceptable behaviour. We will describe the rewards and sanctions, or consequences, used by our school. We will determine how they will be fairly and consistently applied, whilst considering the individual needs of pupils. To achieve this, our school will:

- make clear our expectations of positive behaviour through tutorials, assemblies, lessons, School Council meetings and in published documents
- reward pupils' achievements, offering praise, awarding points, stickers and certificates
- treat all members of the community as individuals, respecting their rights, values and beliefs
- create a zero-tolerance environment by challenging all instances of discrimination or bullying
- provide positive examples for modelling acceptable behaviours
- promote good relationships and a sense of pride and belonging to the community
- intervene early to challenge undesirable behaviour
- be consistent when dealing with unacceptable behaviour

2.0 STANDARDS OF BEHAVIOUR

2.1 Modelling Standards of Behaviour

We know that the first step to modelling positive behaviour is to lead by example. We expect all staff, volunteers, and anyone else who comes to the school to act responsibly and professionally.

We work hard to ensure that expectations and standards are clear and consistent across the school. Clear boundaries, positive rewards and sanctions are clear to all and are applied fairly, proportionately, and without discrimination, considering special educational needs and disabilities (SEND) as well as the additional challenges that many pupils may face.

Staff supervise pupils and are a constant presence around the school, before and after school, between lessons, and during break and lunch time, to supervise and support pupils to use the school premises respectfully and behave as expected.

As part of their training, staff are trained to use strategies to manage behaviour in a positive way. Staff understand their roles and responsibilities for ensuring good discipline in school and challenging negative behaviours proactively.

In the classroom, teaching and support staff set the tone for positive behaviour. They:

- create and maintain a calm, stimulating environment that encourages pupils to be engaged
- display the expected behaviours and routines, and communicate expectations in ways other than speech where this helps, for example visual supports
- build positive relationships, including greeting pupils warmly, establishing clear routines, and ending the day positively and starting the next day afresh
- have a plan for dealing with low-level disruption, and use positive reinforcement and 'catching pupils being good'
- respond to behaviour in a consistent, fair and proportionate way, so that pupils know that misbehaviour will always be addressed

2.2 Working with Parents and Carers

We work closely with parents and carers to help them to understand their children's needs, and the resulting behaviour. We believe that consistent boundaries and reliable support systems, praise, and rewards for positive behaviour are an important part of building an effective learning community.

We discuss positive behaviour and behaviours of concern with parents and carers regularly. We encourage parents and carers to communicate with the school if they have concerns about their child's behaviour, and we try to support parents when they need it. We promote positive behaviour within the school curriculum, and reminders of school rules and expected standards of behaviour are displayed in classrooms and around the wider school.

We also work with other organisations to address behaviour, including the pupil's local authority, the Educational Psychologist, clinicians and therapists, mental health services, children's social care and, where needed, the police. We involve them early, with the agreement of parents and carers wherever possible, and in line with the pupil's EHCP.

2.3 When More Support is Needed

Our positive relationships with pupils and day to day management of attitudes and behaviours will provide a safe school environment for all. However, we know that pupils' behaviour can be influenced by many factors and can change significantly for more prolonged periods of time. When individual pupils engage in persistent disruptive behaviour this can indicate an unmet need. We will work with the pupil, parents, carers and other professionals to understand the trigger. Where additional needs are identified, we will do our best to ensure that the pupil receives appropriate support.

Some pupils may require highly individualised support to take full advantage of the educational opportunities we provide for all pupils. Staff will consider using a Positive Behaviour Support Plan for pupils displaying challenging behaviours, which will be reviewed regularly.

We will seek advice from clinicians and/or external agencies as appropriate, to support us to identify and implement appropriate support strategies. Please read our Special Educational Needs Policy.

The school will take all reasonable measures to ensure the safety and well-being of all pupils and staff, and this includes protection from bullying. We aim to identify and eliminate bullying and other harmful behaviour using preventative and restorative strategies through the active development of pupils' social, emotional and behavioural skills. Please read our Anti-Bullying Policy.

Safeguarding. Changes in behaviour may be a sign that a pupil needs help or protection, and circumstances such as being a young carer, a looked-after child or living in a vulnerable household can affect behaviour. We always consider whether a pupil's misbehaviour may be linked to them suffering, or being likely to suffer, significant harm. Staff follow our Safeguarding and Child Protection Policy and speak to the Designated Safeguarding Lead (or a deputy), who will consider whether pastoral support, early help or a referral to children's social care is appropriate.

2.4 Staff Co-Regulation, Wellbeing and Supervision

Working with pupils who present with trauma-related and dysregulated behaviour is demanding, and staff can only remain calm, consistent and trauma-informed if they themselves are well supported. A dysregulated adult cannot help to regulate a dysregulated child, so staff wellbeing and self-regulation are treated as a safeguarding and behaviour management priority, not an optional extra.

To support this, our school will:

- provide regular reflective supervision or debrief opportunities for staff following incidents involving distressed or dysregulated behaviour
- train staff in recognising their own stress responses and in co-regulation techniques, so they can remain calm and model regulation for pupils
- ensure staff are never expected to manage a serious incident alone, and that support from a colleague or a senior member of staff is always available
- offer a de-brief and, where needed, access to external support such as an Employee Assistance Programme after a serious or distressing incident
- monitor staff wellbeing and workload as part of our duty of care, recognising the cumulative impact of working with trauma-affected pupils

Staff should never feel that asking for support is a sign of failure. A calm, well-supported staff team is essential to a safe and trauma-informed school. Please read our Staff Supervision Policy.

3.0 EXPECTATIONS OF PUPILS

We expect and support everyone to show respect to one another, whether pupils, staff or visitors. Pupils are ambassadors for our school on and off school premises, and we expect them to act accordingly. Within the context of their identified needs, they are expected to follow school rules, listen, follow instructions from staff, and accept and learn from any sanctions received. This extends to any arrangements put in place to support their behaviour, such as additional pastoral support or mentoring.

We work with parents and carers to support pupils to read, understand and sign a Home-School Agreement. This will show that they are clear about what is expected of them and accept the responsibility they have for their own behaviour within the context of their identified needs.

Our behaviour curriculum. We teach what successful behaviour looks like, and the habits and routines that help pupils to succeed, in the same way that we teach any other part of the curriculum. Within the context of their needs, pupils are expected to:

- behave in an orderly and self-controlled way, using the regulation strategies they have been taught
- show respect to members of staff and each other
- challenge and report behaviour that is discriminatory, harmful or disrespectful towards others, including behaviour influenced by prejudice, misogyny, misandry or harmful online content
- in class, make it possible for all pupils to learn
- move around the school calmly and safely
- treat the school buildings and school property with respect
- wear the correct uniform
- accept sanctions when given and take part in putting things right
- not behave in a way that brings the school into disrepute, including when outside school or online

We teach these habits through routines, tutorials, PSHE, assemblies and everyday relationships. Where appropriate and reasonable, we adjust routines so that every pupil can meet the expectations. Pupils are also helped to re-learn the routines when they join us mid-year or return after an absence.

Definitions. Misbehaviour means behaviour that falls below the standard that can reasonably be expected of a pupil, such as disruption in lessons or at break and lunchtime, not completing work, a poor attitude, or incorrect uniform. Serious misbehaviour means repeated breaches of our rules, any form of child-on-child abuse, misogyny or misandry, vandalism, theft, fighting, smoking or vaping, racist, sexist, homophobic or other discriminatory behaviour, and possession of a banned item (see section 5.0).

Examples of unacceptable behaviour include:

- verbal abuse to pupils, staff or others
- physical attack on pupils, staff or others
- serious actual or threatened violence against pupils, staff or others
- possession or use of an offensive weapon
- child-on-child abuse, including sexual violence and sexual harassment, upskirting, and making or sharing nudes or semi-nudes, including those generated using AI
- sexual assault on staff or other adults
- inappropriate online behaviour, including language, soliciting or sharing inappropriate material, images or videos, and creating or sharing harmful AI-generated content
- indecent behaviour
- possession, use or distribution of alcohol, cigarettes or illegal substances including drugs
- theft
- damage to property
- arson

- deliberate or planned repeat incidents of unacceptable behaviour

Incidents of bullying, denigration, or bringing intentional harm to other pupils or staff will not be tolerated. Under no circumstances will illegal or inappropriate items be brought into school, and all pupils will respect and look after the school premises and environment. Support and actions will be implemented to address any inappropriate behaviour.

In respect of any behaviour where a child has suffered or is likely to suffer harm, we will follow our Safeguarding and Child Protection Policy, in line with KCSIE 2026.

Suspension will be considered for the most serious cases, which cannot be resolved by other means. Decisions will be made taking into account individual pupil needs and the context of any incident, recognising that a decision to suspend is also a safeguarding decision. For more information on suspensions, please refer to our Suspension and Exclusion Policy.

Conduct off site and online. We care about our reputation and believe that staff and pupils are ambassadors for Futures Matter - Northwood. We promote community cohesion and try to play a positive role in our local and wider community.

Inappropriate behaviour off school site is not acceptable and could result in sanctions. This includes on the way to or from school, or near the school premises. This applies to pupils who do not follow expectations for their conduct during work experience, school trips, extended school activities, for example sports events, or any event where inappropriate behaviour might jeopardise the future chances of our school participating. We may also apply sanctions when a pupil is wearing school uniform or is identifiable as a pupil of our school, or when their behaviour could affect the orderly running of the school, poses a threat to another pupil, or could harm the reputation of the school. The school will take into consideration the severity and impact of the behaviour and also the extent to which the reputation of the school has been affected.

We can also issue sanctions for online misbehaviour when it poses a threat or causes harm to another pupil, could affect the orderly running of the school, or harms the school's reputation. This includes harmful content created, altered or shared using artificial intelligence (AI), including nudes and semi-nudes. Sanctions are only given on school premises, or elsewhere when the pupil is under the lawful control of a member of staff, for example on a school trip. Please see our Online Safety and Acceptable Use Policy.

4.0 ROLES AND RESPONSIBILITIES

The Proprietor and Chair of School Governance Board are responsible for monitoring the effectiveness of this policy, holding the Head Teacher to account for how it is implemented, setting the statement of behaviour principles (Appendix 3), and making sure that appropriate filtering, monitoring and cyber security systems are in place so that online safety runs through our approach to behaviour and safeguarding.

The Head Teacher is responsible for:

- reviewing and approving this policy, taking account of the statement of behaviour principles
- ensuring that the school environment encourages positive behaviour
- routinely engaging with pupils, parents and carers and staff on setting and maintaining the behaviour culture

- ensuring that staff deal effectively with poor behaviour, and monitoring how staff apply this policy so that rewards and sanctions are applied consistently to all groups of pupils
- giving new staff a clear induction into our behaviour culture, rules and routines
- offering training in behaviour management, and in the impact of SEND and mental health needs on behaviour, to any staff who need it
- ensuring this policy works alongside the Safeguarding and Child Protection Policy, so that pupils are offered both sanctions and support when necessary
- ensuring behaviour log data is reviewed regularly, so that no group of pupils is disproportionately affected by this policy (see section 15.0)

Staff are responsible for:

- creating a calm and safe environment for pupils, and establishing and maintaining clear boundaries of acceptable behaviour
- implementing the policy consistently and fairly, and modelling expected behaviour and positive relationships
- teaching the school's expectations, routines, values and standards in every interaction with pupils
- providing a personalised approach to the behavioural needs of particular pupils, including extra support where a pupil has SEND
- recognising hidden stressors for vulnerable pupils, such as young carers or looked-after children
- being alert to new and emerging online harms, including risks associated with AI, misogynistic or misandrist content, and financially motivated sexual extortion ('sextortion')
- using de-escalation techniques and positive behaviour management to try to prevent the need for restrictive interventions
- recording behaviour incidents promptly on the behaviour log (Appendix 4)

The senior leadership team will support staff in responding to behaviour incidents.

Parents and carers. Parents and carers play a big part in ensuring that their children are aware of the behaviours expected of them when in school and that they are ready for learning. We ask that parents and carers sign in agreement of our Home-School Agreement. This will indicate that they recognise the authority of school staff and want to work with us to support and implement this Behaviour, Rewards and Sanctions Policy. We also ask parents and carers to celebrate their child's successes, to tell us promptly about any changes in circumstances that may affect their child's behaviour, to discuss any concerns with the school, and to take part in any follow-up work, for example reviews of behaviour support.

Parents and carers have a significant role to play in preparing their child for school. Adopting a consistent routine to help with this is essential and includes ensuring your child:

- attends school regularly, aiming for 100% attendance
- arrives at school on time
- has had sufficient sleep and rest to support readiness for learning
- wears our school uniform

- brings any additional kit, for example for PE, as agreed in advance

This will encourage your child to follow routine, procedures and be ready for learning. The school will keep parents and carers informed about their child's behaviour and work with them to tackle any difficulties.

Pupils. During their induction into our behaviour culture, pupils are told what is expected of them, the school's key rules and routines, the rewards they can earn, the consequences if they do not meet the standards, and the support available to help them. Pupils are supported to meet the standards, are given repeat induction where needed, and are asked for feedback on their experience of our behaviour culture.

5.0 SCHOOL RULES

Rules pupils are expected to follow:

- attend school regularly and arrive on time
- be polite and respectful to others
- be kind and considerate towards others
- behave in a safe manner
- do not use rude, derogatory, racist, homophobic, misogynistic, sexist or offensive language
- use electronic equipment correctly and carefully
- wear our school uniform
- take care of our school environment

Items not allowed in school:

- knives or weapons, including any items staff consider could be used to cause injury or damage to pupils, staff or property
- alcohol
- drugs, including illegal or psychoactive substances
- stolen items
- cigarettes, tobacco, e-cigarettes or smoking paraphernalia, including matches, lighters, vapes, vape liquids and sprays; smoking is not permitted on school premises
- fireworks
- illegal or inappropriate material, including racist, homophobic, misogynistic, sexist or pornographic material
- items associated with gambling, including mobile phones or devices; gambling is not permitted on school premises
- any article that a member of staff reasonably suspects has been, or is likely to be, used to commit an offence or to cause injury or damage

Mobile phones. Our school is a mobile phone-free environment by default. Pupils do not use mobile phones during the school day, and any phone that is agreed with the Head Teacher is handed in on entry and returned at the end of the day. We consider pupils who travel to and from school and any risk of not having a phone, and may make exceptions as a reasonable adjustment or for medical or personal reasons. The use of phones on trips, including any residential visit, is agreed in advance. Please see our Mobile Phone Policy and our Online Safety and Acceptable Use Policy.

6.0 BULLYING AND DISCRIMINATION

Definition of bullying. Bullying is "behaviour by an individual or group, repeated over time, that intentionally hurts another individual or group, either physically or emotionally" (DfE). Bullying can involve an imbalance of power, which may be physical, psychological, intellectual, or come from having the support of a group. It is deliberately hurtful, repeated and difficult to defend against.

We embrace our legal responsibility to prevent and tackle bullying. Our Anti-Bullying Policy and this Behaviour, Rewards and Sanctions Policy are in place and available on our website and from the school office.

Bullying will not be tolerated. Our school is a 'telling school', where staff will work with both the person being bullied and the person doing the bullying to provide support and address bullying.

Type of bullying	What it can look like
Emotional	Being unfriendly, excluding, tormenting
Physical	Hitting, kicking, pushing, taking another's belongings, any use of violence
Prejudice-based and discriminatory	Taunts, gestures, graffiti or physical abuse focused on a particular characteristic or perceived characteristic, including racial, faith-based, sexist, homophobic, biphobic, transphobic and disability-based bullying
Sexual	Explicit sexual remarks, display of sexual material, sexual gestures, unwanted physical attention, comments about sexual reputation, non-consensual making or sharing of nudes or semi-nudes (including those generated using AI)
Direct or indirect verbal	Name-calling, sarcasm, spreading rumours, teasing
Cyber-bullying	Bullying online, through social networking, messaging apps, gaming, devices, images, audio, video or written content, including content generated or altered using AI such as 'deepfakes'

Details of how we prevent bullying, how pupils, parents and staff can report it, how we investigate and record it, and how we support pupils who are bullied are in our Anti-Bullying Policy. We can act on bullying that happens off school premises or online.

Child-on-child abuse. We recognise that children are capable of abusing other children. Abuse will never be tolerated or passed off as "banter", "just having a laugh", "part of growing up" or "boys being boys", as this can lead to a culture of unacceptable behaviour, misogyny and an unsafe environment for pupils. All child-on-child abuse is unacceptable and will be taken seriously. Most cases of pupils hurting other pupils will be dealt with under this policy. Where an allegation raises a safeguarding concern, it is managed under our Safeguarding and Child Protection Policy, which says more about how we prevent and respond to child-on-child abuse.

Zero tolerance of sexual harassment and sexual violence. Every incident of sexual harassment or sexual violence, including online, is met with a suitable response and is never ignored. Pupils are encouraged to report anything that makes them uncomfortable, however small it may seem. Our response follows our Safeguarding and Child Protection Policy. Staff are supported to challenge misogynistic, misandrist and discriminatory behaviour, and pupils are taught to challenge and report it.

Discrimination. Our staff have a duty to prevent discrimination, harassment and victimisation within the school. We follow anti-discrimination law and comply with the Equality Duty as set out by the Equality Act 2010, which has three aims:

- eliminate unlawful discrimination, harassment, victimisation and any other conduct prohibited by the Act
- advance equality of opportunity between people who share a protected characteristic and people who do not share it
- foster good relations between people who share a protected characteristic and people who do not share it

Our staff will be proactive in challenging perceived derogatory views about the legally protected characteristics, as set out in the Equality Act 2010, of age, disability, gender reassignment, marriage and civil partnership, pregnancy and maternity, race, religion or belief, sex and sexual orientation, through exploration of, and development of mutual respect for, those different to themselves. Our Equality, Diversity and Inclusion Policy sets out how we record, respond to and learn from prejudice-related incidents.

We make it very clear to pupils what is expected of them in terms of respecting their peers, staff and members of the public. Any deliberate breach of this will result in sanctions or disciplinary action as appropriate. Please refer to our Anti-Bullying Policy.

7.0 UNIFORM

Why we have uniform. Readiness for learning begins with setting the scene and being prepared. Decisions about uniform were informed after consideration of the many arguments for and against. We believe that uniform helps pupils to develop discipline and pride in their appearance. A simple, standard uniform will help us to promote a positive identity and sense of belonging at our school, whilst removing some unnecessary distractions. Uniform items are basic and should be available in most supermarkets or clothing stores.

Our school uniform:

- white polo shirt or school shirt
- black trousers
- plain black sweatshirt, jumper or cardigan (not a hoody)
- smart, plain black footwear (no heels or flip flops)

PE kit: plain black PE shorts, jogging bottoms or tracksuit; plain white t-shirt; plimsolls or training shoes.

Our School Council will represent pupil voice by suggesting a more personalised uniform or modifications once our school is established. We adjust uniform requirements where a pupil has sensory needs or a medical condition.

8.0 SUPPORT FOR PUPILS

We will support all pupils to succeed during their time at Futures Matter - Northwood.

Where it becomes clear that a pupil is having on-going difficulties in managing their behaviour, there are a wide range of support strategies which we might use, including:

- increased communication between home and school for joint collaboration around support
- individual support plans, including a Positive Behaviour Support Plan
- the allocation of a Learning Mentor
- smaller group work or one-to-one support in self-esteem, emotional literacy, anger management or nurture group
- additional literacy or numeracy support if identified as a barrier to learning impacting on pupil behaviour
- use of our nurture and sensory regulation space and our calm space to support emotional regulation
- referral for additional support internally or externally, including Educational Psychologist, Speech and Language Therapy or Mental Health Worker
- timetable review to make supportive modifications

The impact of SEND on behaviour. We recognise that pupils' behaviour may be affected by a special educational need or disability. Pupils with SEND may react to distressing or confusing situations in ways that harm themselves or others, and pupils who have difficulty communicating verbally may show their needs and discomfort through their actions. Pupils with SEND may also find it hard to tell real content from AI-generated content, or to understand the consequences of online interactions. We consider each incident in relation to a pupil's SEND, while recognising that not every incident is connected to it.

Our legal duties include taking reasonable steps to avoid substantial disadvantage to a disabled pupil caused by our policies or practices (Equality Act 2010) and using our best endeavours to meet the needs of pupils with SEND (Children and Families Act 2014). If a pupil has an EHCP, we secure the provision in that plan and co-operate with the local authority.

We anticipate likely triggers of misbehaviour and put support in place to prevent them, for example short planned movement breaks, adjusted seating, quiet regulation spaces, adapted routines and staff training in understanding conditions such as autism. Staff who know individual pupils well help to identify risks and trigger points and to develop proactive strategies that reduce the likelihood of restrictive interventions being needed.

Adapting sanctions for pupils with SEND. Before giving a sanction we consider whether the pupil was unable to understand the rule or instruction, whether they were unable to act differently at the time because of their SEND, and whether they were likely to behave aggressively because of their particular needs. If the answer to any of these is yes, it may be unlawful to sanction the pupil. We then decide whether a sanction is appropriate and, if so, what reasonable adjustments are needed.

Unidentified needs. Where a pupil shows challenging behaviour, the SENCO will consider whether they have any underlying need that is not being met, and we will seek advice from specialist teachers, an Educational Psychologist, medical practitioners and others. We will plan support with parents and carers and review it regularly. If we are concerned about the behaviour of a pupil with an EHCP, we will contact the local authority and, where appropriate, ask for an emergency review of the plan.

Supporting pupils following a sanction. After a sanction, removal from class or a suspension, we help the pupil to reintegrate. This may include a reintegration meeting, daily contact with a key adult, a personalised behaviour plan, and a restorative conversation once the pupil is regulated.

Pupil transition. New pupils are supported to meet our behaviour standards through our personalised Admission Programme, which includes an introduction to our routines, rules and rewards. Transition Plans and Transition Reviews help pupils move between phases, and information about behaviour support is shared with the staff who need it at the start of each term or year. Pupils who have been absent are helped to re-join our routines.

9.0 REWARDS AND CELEBRATION

We recognise that focusing on success and positive outcomes is essential in developing a positive culture and ethos across the school. We will encourage and recognise good conduct throughout the school by celebrating and rewarding positive attitudes and behaviour. This will include a school reward system to praise pupils for positive actions, including acts of kindness or 'being a good citizen'.

Our staff team are focused on 'catching pupils being good' and giving timely recognition for this, including verbally with praise. Focus on improvement and positive engagement will stimulate further positive engagement socially, behaviourally and academically.

Our aim is to show pupils how positive engagement and motivation can bring recognition and rewards. These will be essential foundations for pupils, motivating their desire to succeed in their careers and life beyond school.

Pupil success will be celebrated regularly in many ways, including:

- praise: our staff team will provide timely recognition in a way appropriate to pupil needs
- reward points: success criteria individualised to pupils' learning needs and behaviours, with personalised targets based on their EHCP objectives
- Good Citizen tokens: acts of kindness, support and help for others
- enrichment activities: pupils can access a wider range of activities based on points earned
- certificates: weekly opportunities to earn 'pupil of the...' week, subject, class or school
- positions of responsibility, for example a role on the School Council or a trusted project
- telephone call home: we know that parents and carers welcome positive calls and will want to support us in praising their child's achievements

10.0 SANCTIONS AND CONSEQUENCES

Our school has a range of sanctions which are adapted according to the severity and frequency of the behaviour and the individual needs of each pupil. This is in line with Section 91 of the Education and Inspections Act 2006, which sets out the statutory power for teachers and certain other staff to discipline pupils. Deprivation of drink, food or medication, or corporal punishment, are not permitted.

At the lowest level, staff might find opportunities for reflection, for example at break time, during which the behaviour is discussed and strategies for improvement identified. Staff might use opportunities to undertake restorative work so that pupils can try to 'put something right' when things have gone wrong with others.

We do not use detentions at Futures Matter - Northwood. Many of our pupils have experienced adverse childhood experiences (ACEs) and developmental trauma, and removing a pupil's time or freedom as a standalone punishment can be dysregulating, can damage trust, and does not teach the skills needed to avoid the behaviour recurring. Instead, our consequences are proportionate, individualised, and focused on repair, regulation and learning.

Sanctions include:

- a calm reminder of the expectations, delivered without shaming the pupil
- break or lunch time reflection, to discuss behaviour, expectations and solutions, delivered calmly and without shaming the pupil
- restorative work and restorative conversations, once the pupil is regulated enough to reflect
- closer working with parents and carers to agree broader incentives and consequences, including a call or letter home
- reparation, for example helping to put right any damage or harm caused
- time with a trusted adult or key worker to reflect and reset
- loss of a privilege or responsibility, where this is linked to the behaviour
- referral to a senior member of staff

Further consequences can include a short period with a modified programme and timetable. In the most serious cases, the Head Teacher might issue, as a last resort, a suspension.

How we choose a sanction. Staff consider the personal circumstances of the pupil, any factors that contributed to the incident, and what support could help the pupil to meet the expectations next time. They may speak to the SENCO or the Designated Safeguarding Lead to help decide what is appropriate. Decisions are made case by case, with regard to fairness, and all pupils are treated equitably under the policy.

Removal from the classroom. Removal from the classroom is a serious step, used only for serious or persistent breaches of this policy, and only after other strategies have been tried unless the behaviour is so extreme that immediate removal is needed. It is used to keep everyone safe, restore stability after high levels of disruption, and give the pupil a safe place to regain calm. It is different from seclusion, which is non-disciplinary (see section 12.1).

- the pupil is supervised throughout by a member of staff trained in this policy and in supporting pupils with challenging behaviour. This is normally the Teaching Assistant

(Trainee Thrive Practitioner), the Head Teacher, or another Teaching Assistant at the direction of the Head Teacher
- the pupil continues to receive meaningful education, with work set by the class teacher or an alternative task that matches their needs
- a removal lasts no longer than the rest of the session. A longer removal needs the explicit agreement of the Head Teacher, who records the reason and tells the parent or carer
- the pupil is never left unsupervised, and the room used is suitable, with the door open or a clear glass panel so another adult can see in
- the pupil is reintegrated as soon as it is safe and appropriate, with a short restorative conversation and support to meet the expected standards
- parents and carers are told on the same day
- every removal is recorded on the behaviour log, with the time in and out, who supervised, the details of the incident and the pupil's protected characteristics
- where a pupil has been removed six times in a half term, the Head Teacher reviews the approach and considers a behaviour support plan, short-term report cards, extra adult support or multi-agency assessment

Suspension and permanent exclusion. The Head Teacher can use suspension and permanent exclusion in response to serious incidents, or persistent poor behaviour that has not improved after in-school sanctions and support. The decision is made by the Head Teacher, only as a last resort. Please see our Suspension and Exclusion Policy.

Suspected criminal behaviour. If a pupil is suspected of criminal behaviour, we first gather enough information to establish the facts, document the initial investigation, and keep any evidence. If we decide to report the matter to the police, the Head Teacher makes the report. We will not interfere with police action, although we may continue our own investigation and sanctions where this does not conflict. Where a report is made to the police, the Designated Safeguarding Lead will make a parallel report to children's social care if appropriate.

Malicious allegations. Where a pupil makes an allegation against a member of staff, or an allegation of sexual violence or harassment against another pupil, and it is shown to have been deliberately invented or malicious, we will consider whether to discipline the pupil in line with this policy. In every case where an allegation is found to be unsubstantiated, unfounded, false or malicious, we will, with the LADO where relevant, consider whether the pupil needs help, or whether it was a cry for help, and whether a referral to children's social care is appropriate. We will also consider the pastoral needs of staff and pupils who have been accused. Please see our Safeguarding and Child Protection Policy.

11.0 POWERS TO SEARCH AND CONFISCATE PROPERTY

Following guidance set out by the Education and Inspections Act 2006 and the Searching, Screening and Confiscation - Advice for Schools (DfE, July 2022), staff are authorised to use confiscation as a disciplinary sanction if it is lawful. This means that staff can confiscate or seize items in the possession of pupils that are either illegal or are banned by our school.

Where we suspect that a pupil is carrying a prohibited item, we would request and encourage them to hand the item over voluntarily. However, we do have the right to search without consent where necessary.

Banned/prohibited items that can be searched for without consent include, but are not restricted to:

- knives or weapons, alcohol, illegal drugs, psychoactive substances (formerly known as 'legal highs'), stolen items, e-cigarettes, tobacco and smoking paraphernalia, fireworks, pornographic images
- any article that the member of staff (or other authorised person) reasonably suspects has been, or is likely to be, used to commit an offence, or to cause personal injury to, or damage to the property of, any person (including the pupil)

Our priority is to ensure that all pupils and staff are in a safe and secure environment in school. Any items that may jeopardise that safety will be taken from pupils without notice. Prohibited items found in a search are confiscated and not returned to the pupil. We may also confiscate any item that is harmful or detrimental to school discipline, and return it after discussion with senior leaders and parents or carers where appropriate. See Appendix 2: Search Record.

Powers to search. The Head Teacher and staff members authorised by them have a statutory power to search a pupil or their possessions. This will take place where staff have reasonable grounds to suspect that the pupil may have a prohibited item or any other item that our school rules identify as an item that can be searched for. Only the Head Teacher, or a member of staff authorised by them, may search. Where we need to conduct a search for a prohibited item, the Head Teacher will authorise this. The Head Teacher can authorise the member of staff to search for specific prohibited or banned items set out in this policy.

The member of staff carrying out the search should be the same sex as the pupil, with another member of staff present as a witness. A member of staff of a different sex, or a search without a witness, is only allowed where there is a risk of serious harm if the search is not done as a matter of urgency and it is not reasonably practicable to meet the usual arrangements. Where a search is done without a witness, the member of staff tells another member of staff straight away and a written record is kept. If a search is thought necessary but is not urgent, the member of staff will first take advice from the Head Teacher, the DSL or a pastoral member of staff who may know more about the pupil, and the pupil will be supervised and kept away from other pupils.

Before a search, staff will assess whether it is urgent, whether not searching puts others at risk and whether the search poses a safeguarding risk to the pupil. They then explain why the pupil is being searched and what it will involve, how and where it will be done, give the pupil the chance to ask questions, and seek their co-operation. An authorised member of staff may search outer clothing, pockets, possessions, desks and lockers, and may use a metal detector to help. Possessions can be searched for any item if the pupil agrees. If the pupil does not agree, staff can still search for prohibited items and items identified in the school rules.

A trauma-sensitive approach to searching: A search can feel threatening or unsafe to a pupil who has experienced trauma, particularly trauma involving a loss of control, physical intrusion or abuse. Wherever possible, staff conducting a search will:

- explain calmly, in advance, what is happening and why, using language the pupil can understand
- be mindful of the pupil's trauma history, where known, and adjust their approach accordingly
- take into account the pupil's and searcher's gender, and a pupil's expressed preference as to the gender of the person searching them, wherever practicable

- conduct the search somewhere private, away from peers, to avoid embarrassment or humiliation
- have a second adult present wherever possible
- avoid rushing or using a raised voice, and remain calm and reassuring throughout

These considerations support, and do not override, the statutory powers and safeguards set out in this section.

If a pupil refuses. Where the pupil does not agree to be searched, staff will think about why: they may have a prohibited item, may not understand, may not know what a search involves, or may have had a distressing experience of being searched. Our school will consider the use of a sanction. If the pupil still refuses, staff speak to the Head Teacher or the DSL to try to understand why, and then decide, case by case, whether to use reasonable force to search. Reasonable force can be used to search for prohibited items, but not for items that are only in the school rules. The use of reasonable force will differ depending on whether the member of staff is searching through possessions, for example a bag, or the pupil themselves.

Electronic devices. The Education Act 2011 allows staff to seize or confiscate an electronic device to examine any data or files on that device, if they think there is good reason to do so. Inappropriate data or files may be erased before returning the item, if they believe there is good reason to do this.

Strip searches. The power of staff to search does not include a strip search, which means removing more than outer clothing. Strip searches on school premises are only carried out by police officers, in line with PACE Code C, and only where it is necessary to remove an item related to a criminal offence. Before calling the police, staff assess the risk to the pupil's wellbeing against the risk of not recovering the item, and make sure less invasive approaches have been tried. Once police are on site, the decision is theirs, but staff keep their duty of care and advocate for the pupil. Where possible, and unless there is an immediate risk of harm, we tell the parent or carer before the search and ask whether they would like to attend as the appropriate adult. If they cannot, a member of staff, who is not the Head Teacher, can act as the appropriate adult. The pupil's parents or carers are always told once a strip search has taken place. We keep a record of any strip search and monitor them for trends. After any strip search the pupil is given support and the chance to say how they feel about it.

Following a search. When a search for a prohibited item has been conducted, staff will notify the Designated Safeguarding Lead (DSL). The person conducting the search will record details on the safeguarding database. When a search for prohibited and/or banned items has been undertaken, a Search Record will be completed and uploaded to the safeguarding log by the person who conducted the search, including searches where nothing was found. See Appendix 2: Search Record.

Parents and carers are always told of any search for a prohibited item as soon as is reasonably practicable. We tell them what happened, what was found and confiscated, if anything, and what action the school has taken, including any sanctions. Whether or not anything is found, we consider whether the pupil may be suffering, or likely to suffer, harm and whether they need support because of the reason for the search, the search itself or its outcome. Where this is the case, staff follow our Safeguarding and Child Protection Policy and speak to the DSL. Any cigarettes or e-cigarettes confiscated in school will be destroyed.

Screening. We do not screen pupils with a metal detector as they enter the school.

12.0 USE OF FORCE AND PHYSICAL INTERVENTION

12.1 Use of Force

All staff receive comprehensive training in positive behaviour support, including de-escalation and physical intervention. To maintain the safety and welfare of all pupils, it may sometimes be necessary to use reasonable force on a pupil, as permitted by law.

Section 93 of the Education and Inspections Act 2006 permits all school staff to use such force as is reasonable in the circumstances to prevent a pupil from doing, or continuing to do, any of the following:

- committing any offence (or, for a pupil under the age of criminal responsibility, what would be an offence for an older pupil)
- causing personal injury to, or damage to the property of, any person (including themselves)
- prejudicing the maintenance of good order and discipline at the school or among any pupils receiving education at the school, whether during a teaching session or otherwise; this means that where a pupil fails to respond to repeated warnings and reminders to improve an aspect of behaviour which disrupts the learning of others, they can be removed from class

The school does not encourage the use of force, and it will be used only in special circumstances as a last resort. There is no definition of when it is reasonable to use force, and every situation will have to be judged by the person in charge at that time. The degree of force used should be the minimum needed to achieve the desired result, for the shortest time.

Reasonable force is never used as a punishment. It must maintain the safety and dignity of everyone involved. It must never involve restraining a pupil in a way that affects their airway, breathing or circulation, for example by covering the nose or mouth or applying pressure to the neck or abdomen, and is not used if the pupil is on the ground. If a pupil is unintentionally held on the ground, staff release their hold or move to a safer, standing position as quickly as possible. Staff carefully consider the pupil's particular vulnerabilities, including SEND, mental health needs and medical conditions.

We do not have a 'no contact' policy, and we will not agree to requests from parents, carers or staff that reasonable force or other restrictive interventions are never used.

Seclusion. Seclusion is a non-disciplinary intervention that keeps a pupil confined to a place away from others, and prevents them leaving, for the safety of the pupil or others. We use it only as a safety measure when a pupil is experiencing very high levels of dysregulation. It is never used as a threat or punishment. The pupil is in a safe place that does not feel threatening, supervised at all times by at least one member of staff, and is allowed to leave as soon as the immediate risk has reduced.

Recording and reporting. Staff have a legal duty to record and report all significant incidents involving force, seclusion and restraint. Please see our Restrictive Interventions Policy for the full procedure, including how parents and carers are told.

12.2 Staff Training in Use of Force

All staff at the school are fully trained in accredited Global Conflict Management De-escalation and Physical Intervention (GCM) and have the authority to use force when reasonable. This extends to persons whom the Head Teacher has given the responsibility to be in charge of or in control of pupils. Staff can also use this power when they are lawfully in charge of pupils off the school premises, for example on a school trip.

Following serious incidents involving the use of force, the school will speak to the parents or carers, and pupils and staff will be offered a de-brief. Force will never be used as a punishment. Such serious incidents involving the use of force will also be recorded by the school.

Staff supporting a pupil through a behavioural crisis are expected to draw on their co-regulation training, staying calm and regulated themselves so that they can help the pupil to regulate, in line with Section 2.4 (Staff Co-Regulation, Wellbeing and Supervision) of this policy. Staff involved in a serious incident will always be offered supervision or a debrief, and no member of staff will be left to manage the aftermath of a serious incident unsupported.

See Appendix 1: Global Conflict Management De-escalation and Physical Intervention (GCM).

13.0 FEEDBACK, COMPLIMENTS AND COMPLAINTS

We welcome feedback about our school, especially when we get things right, but also on the occasions when we might not do things as well as we would have intended or liked. All feedback is considered and responded to as part of our continuous improvement cycle.

Throughout each academic year, we will ask pupils, parents/carers and other stakeholders to provide feedback about how well we are doing.

Feedback will be gathered in many ways, including:

- in person, by telephone or email; we will have positive relationships, and regular communications will be routine
- feedback forms provided with annual progress reports to parents and carers
- requesting feedback from pupils and all attendees ahead of and after pupil Annual Review or Personal Education Plan meetings
- pupil surveys, including through Student Council when established
- pupil and parent Ofsted inspection-style questionnaires covering behaviour, attitudes and overall satisfaction
- encouraging parents and carers to complete Ofsted Parent View at least annually

We ask that staff, or the Head Teacher, are told about any niggles, concerns or complaints, however small, so that we can do everything we can to find a resolution quickly. Please refer to our School Complaints Procedure, which is available on our website and from the school office upon request.

For information about how to complain or challenge a suspension, please refer to the Suspension and Exclusion Policy.

14.0 STAFF INDUCTION, TRAINING AND SUPPORT

As part of their induction, all staff are given a clear introduction to our behaviour culture, rules and routines, and how to support every pupil to take part fully. They then receive regular training on managing behaviour, including:

- the safe and lawful use of reasonable force and other restrictive interventions, and how to prevent the need for them (GCM)
- the needs of our pupils, and how SEND, mental health needs and personal circumstances can affect behaviour
- trauma-informed, relational practice and co-regulation, informed by Thrive principles
- how to respond to online misbehaviour and emerging digital threats, including the risks of generative AI
- how to recognise and challenge extreme online misogynistic or misandrist content, and harmful sexual behaviour

Behaviour management also forms part of continuing professional development. Staff can get support to improve their practice through coaching and 1:1 reflective practice with their line manager, learning from colleagues, and our reflective group sessions (see our Staff Supervision Policy). A staff training log is kept (Appendix 5). The Head Teacher makes sure that new and temporary staff are inducted before they work with pupils.

15.0 MONITORING AND EVALUATING BEHAVIOUR

Our school will develop effective systems for recording, reporting and monitoring data and information which will support us to review the overall culture, attitudes and behaviour in our school. Staff record incidents on the behaviour log (Appendix 4), with a safeguarding entry where this applies.

The Head Teacher will work with senior leaders and key staff to analyse the data and information as part of our cycle of monitoring and evaluation. Data analysis will include a breakdown by protected characteristic, age group, time of day, week and term, and by individual member of staff, using findings to inform policy and practice to support us in ensuring we meet our duties under the Equality Act 2010. If any trend or disparity between groups of pupils is found, we will review our practice to address it.

The Headteacher conducts a termly analysis of this data. Outcomes of analyses will inform the school self-review cycle. We will provide reports regularly for the Proprietor and those responsible for school governance, which will include reporting on behaviour culture, with a data breakdown, analysis and commentary on:

- attendance
- behaviour incident data, including on removal from the classroom
- suspension and permanent exclusion
- incidents involving restrictive interventions, including the use of reasonable force and seclusion
- incidents of searching, screening and confiscation
- anonymous surveys for staff, pupils, the Proprietor and other stakeholders about their perceptions and experiences of the school behaviour culture

Reviewing this policy. The Head Teacher reviews this policy every year, and sooner if the law or guidance changes or if monitoring shows a need. Before each review we consult staff (see Appendix 6), and we listen to pupils and parents and carers. At each review the policy is approved by the Proprietor and the Chair of School Governance Board. The policy is published on our website, a copy is available from the school office, and we share it in writing with parents and carers, pupils and staff at least once a year.

16.0 LEGISLATION, GUIDANCE AND RELATED POLICIES

This policy is based on the Independent School Standards, which require a written behaviour policy that sets out the sanctions to be used, effective implementation of it, and an anti-bullying strategy, and on the following:

APPENDIX 1: GLOBAL CONFLICT MANAGEMENT DE-ESCALATION AND PHYSICAL INTERVENTION (GCM)

JM Training provides comprehensive accredited staff training in de-escalation and physical intervention techniques. GCM is a practical course which provides staff with the skills, knowledge and understanding of how to safely de-escalate conflict and behaviours that challenge.

Staff learn and practise a range of de-escalation and physical restraint techniques in a controlled environment and offer reassurance and support to all those involved. Physical intervention techniques may be non-restrictive or restrictive interventions, which would only be used as a very last resort. This helps our team to prevent and intervene to make safe a crisis situation and thus keep everyone safe.

Staff are trained in:

- verbal intervention: a programme of preventative approaches
- safety intervention: a programme of interventions, disengagements and holding skills

Our staff team are highly skilled at quickly building positive relationships with pupils and identifying when something is not quite right. Staff use positive communication and verbal intervention to support pupils to engage positively, and this is successful for the majority of the time.

Occasionally, our pupils may present a behavioural crisis which might place themselves, other pupils or staff at risk of injury. Our staff team are trained to manage a behavioural crisis effectively by focusing on the least-restrictive physical intervention to ensure the care, welfare, safety and security of those we support.

In schools, staff can and will intervene to protect a pupil from harm, protect a pupil from harming others, and also intervene to prevent damage to property.

The training supports staff to:

- work in a trauma-informed way
- improve relational approaches
- work as a team to set a positive culture for behaviour
- prevent pupil behaviours from escalating
- intervene appropriately

Ultimately, the training is effective in supporting staff to improve safety, reduce risk and ensure the well-being of those in our care.

APPENDIX 2: SEARCH RECORD

To be completed electronically and attached to the appropriate safeguarding entry on the database. The person who conducted the search completes this form.

RECORD OF A SEARCH
Name of pupil and date of birth:
Date and time of search:
Location of the search:
Name and role of person conducting search:
Names of any other adults or pupils present:
Prohibited or banned item(s) searched for (knives or weapons, alcohol, illegal drugs, stolen items, tobacco or cigarette papers, fireworks, psychoactive substances, e-cigarettes, matches, lighters or smoking paraphernalia, vapes and vape liquids, racist, homophobic, misogynistic or sexist material, pornographic images or material, gambling items including mobile phones or devices):
Did the pupil agree to the search? Yes / No
If no, was reasonable force used to search? Yes / No
The reason for the search:
Did the Head Teacher give permission for the search? Yes / No
Was a prohibited item found? If yes, state what was found:
Follow-up action taken as a consequence of the search:
Have parents/carers been made aware of the search? How, and the time and date:
Name of DSL/DDSL the search was reported to, with date and time:
Signed, print name, date and time:

APPENDIX 3: STATEMENT OF BEHAVIOUR PRINCIPLES

These principles are set by the Proprietor and the Chair of School Governance Board, and the Head Teacher takes them into account when writing and reviewing this policy.

- every pupil understands they have the right to feel safe and to learn
- all pupils, staff and visitors are free from any form of discrimination
- staff and volunteers set an excellent example to pupils at all times
- rewards and sanctions are used consistently by staff, in line with this policy, and take account of each pupil's needs
- restrictive interventions, including reasonable force, are only used as a last resort, and in line with the Restrictive Interventions Policy
- this policy is understood by pupils and staff
- exclusions are only used as a last resort, as explained in the Suspension and Exclusion Policy
- pupils are helped to take responsibility for their actions and to repair harm
- families and carers are involved in the handling of behaviour incidents to foster good relationships between the school and pupils' home life

The Proprietor and the Chair of School Governance Board also emphasise that violence or threatening behaviour will not be tolerated in any circumstances.

APPENDIX 4: BEHAVIOUR LOG

Staff complete a log entry for each behaviour incident. Where a safeguarding concern is identified, it is also recorded on the safeguarding system.

BEHAVIOUR LOG ENTRY
Pupil's name:
Pupil's known protected characteristics (sex, race, disability, religion or belief, gender reassignment, pregnancy or maternity, sexual orientation):
Name of staff member reporting the incident:
Date:
Where did the incident take place?
When did the incident take place (before school, after school, lunchtime, break time)?
What happened?
Who was involved?
What actions were taken, including any sanctions?
Were any safeguarding concerns identified? If so, give details of actions taken, including any referrals or records created:
Is any follow-up action needed? If so, give details:
People informed of the incident (staff, governors, parents or carers, police):

APPENDIX 5: STAFF TRAINING LOG

The Head Teacher keeps this log for training in behaviour management, including GCM, de-escalation, trauma-informed practice and online harms.

Training received	Date completed	Trainer or organisation	Trainer signature	Staff signature	Review date

APPENDIX 6: STAFF CONSULTATION QUESTIONS

We consult staff before reviewing this policy, to find out what is working and what could be better. Staff are asked to read the policy first. The sections below match the sections of this policy. We will consider all responses when we make changes, and discuss them at a staff meeting.

To confirm: the date by which staff should respond, and whether the survey is completed on paper, online or discussed in a staff meeting.

Question	Your answer
DEFINITIONS OF BEHAVIOUR (section 3.0)
Are there any additional behaviour issues that you have to deal with in school that we should include in our policy? If yes, please outline your suggestions.
BULLYING (section 6.0)
Are you clear on how you can report incidents of bullying?
Are you clear on how we investigate allegations of bullying?
Could we do anything to improve how we investigate allegations of bullying?
Are you clear on how we support pupils who have been bullied?
Could we do anything to improve the way we support pupils who have been bullied?
Do you understand your responsibilities in relation to preventing and handling bullying?
Are there particular types of bullying we could be doing more to prevent?
Do you feel supported to challenge and address misogynistic, misandrist or discriminatory behaviour?
BEHAVIOUR CURRICULUM (section 3.0)
Could we add anything to our behaviour curriculum? If yes, please outline your suggestions.
Should we remove anything from the behaviour curriculum? If yes, please outline which parts.
REWARDS AND SANCTIONS (sections 9.0 and 10.0)
Do you think there is an alternative behavioural reward system we should adopt? If yes, please outline your suggestions.
Should we remove any sanctions? If yes, please outline which sanctions.
BEHAVIOUR MANAGEMENT (sections 2.0 and 4.0)

Question	Your answer
Could we improve how staff are instructed to manage behaviour in the classroom? If yes, please outline your suggestions.
Do you understand your responsibilities in managing behaviour?
RESTRICTIVE INTERVENTIONS (section 12.0)
Do you understand your responsibilities in the use of restrictive interventions, including reasonable force, where necessary?
Do you feel confident using de-escalation techniques and positive behaviour management strategies to minimise and prevent the need for restrictive interventions?
PUPIL TRANSITION (section 8.0)
Could we do anything to improve how we support pupils to meet behaviour expectations as part of the transition to the next year? If yes, please outline your suggestions.
TRAINING (section 14.0)
Could we do anything to improve staff training on managing behaviour? If yes, please outline your suggestions.
Are there any training materials you would like us to share? If yes, please outline your suggestions.
